About Executive Coaching for Leaders

Executive Leaders are constantly juggling the strategic, operational and supportive demands of not just their leadership team but of the whole organisation. The challenges many leaders face could be summarised by the phrase ‘trying to keep all the plates spinning’.

Being an effective Executive Leader requires us to be able to: (1.) work ‘supportively’ with those we lead as well as (2.) work ‘strategically’ on our operational plans and objectives – all the while (3.) making sure we look after our ‘self’ care – optimising our own wellbeing. We refer to these as ‘The 3 Circles of Leadership’.

HPT Individual Executive Coaching Programs are a tailored series of individual coaching sessions held over 6-12 months which provide Executive Leaders with reflective space, support, accountability and an opportunity for further growth and development.

Executive Coaching Sessions: What actually happens?

HPT Individual Executive Coaching Sessions are run one-on-one, face to face either virtually or onsite. A typical coaching session runs for 60 minutes with the timing of agenda items adjusted flexibly - pending individual needs (see example Agenda below). Often sessions are closer together (weekly/ fortnightly) during the establishment phase and then more spaced out (monthly/ bi monthly) in the growth and development phase.
